A read aloud story

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

1 Gordon arrived at the main station with his express train. He was two minutes early, and felt very pleased with himself. He had to meet Henry's train but Henry was late. "Where is that silly green engine?" thought Gordon.

2 Henry arrived three minutes late. His train had been heavy and he was tired. Gordon said, "Look at poor Henry! You look like a tired old marrow!" Henry was too tired to say anything.

3 That evening, Gordon was the first engine to arrive back at the shed. He was chuckling to himself at the name he had called Henry. When Henry arrived at the shed, Gordon said to him, "Hello! The tired old marrow has got here at last!"

4 "I'm not old and I'm not a marrow, Gordon," said Henry. "I may be tired but that is because I have been working hard. You're just a great big blue kettle – all huff and puff." Gordon got very cross. "Don't you call me a big kettle!" "Well, you called me an old marrow!" said Henry.

5 Meanwhile, James had arrived at the shed. He heard Gordon and Henry calling each other names and started to laugh. "What are you laughing at?" asked Gordon. "You're no better than Henry – you look like an old pillar box on its side!" Henry laughed. "Or a jar of strawberry jam that has been knocked over!" Now James was cross. "I am a fine engine," he cried. "You two are a pair of old cans!" They all started calling each other names.

6 Finally, Edward arrived at the shed. "Whatever is going on?" he asked. "These two old buckets are calling me names!" said Gordon. "You started it," said Henry. "Well let's finish it," said Edward. "We all have perfectly good names. Let's use them to say goodnight to each other."

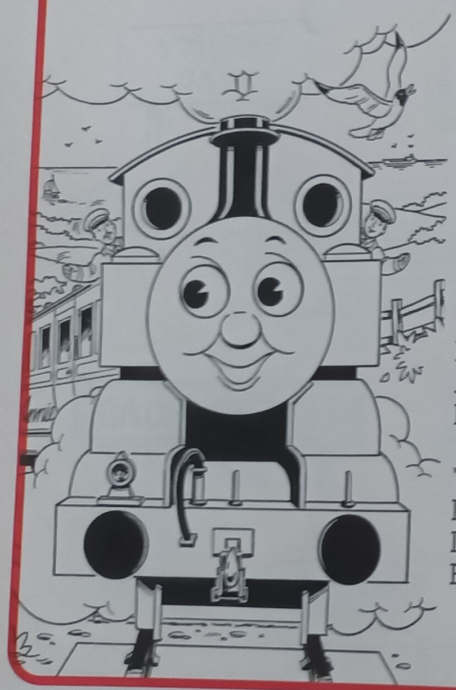
My Name is Thomas!



"I like my name!"
Says Thomas, happily,
"Because without my name,
I would not be me!

"Gordon and Henry,
Edward and James –
Friends and relations,
Everyone has a name.

"I know names of places
I pass on my line,
And the name of a station
Is shown on a sign.

"Without my name Thomas
I would not feel the same.
I feel so lucky
Because I like my name."

What do you remember about the rhyme?

- Does Thomas like his name?
- What are the names of some of Thomas' friends?
- Where is the name of a station shown?
- Would Thomas feel the same without his name?

COLOURING TIME

Thomas and the world's favourite wooden railway.

Thomas the Tank Engine was waiting quietly outside his shed, when he heard some Very Important News.

"Thomas," announced The Fat Controller, "we're going on the BRIO Wooden Railway."

"What's that?" asked Thomas.

"Only the finest wooden railway system in the world – it has track, stations, tunnels, bridges, people, trees and lots more – and it's all made out of solid beechwood."

"What fun!" said Thomas.

"And all your friends are going, including James, Gordon, Annie and Clarabel."

"How exciting," thought Thomas, "I'm bound to make lots of new friends too."

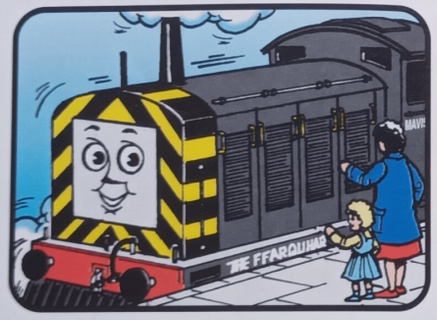
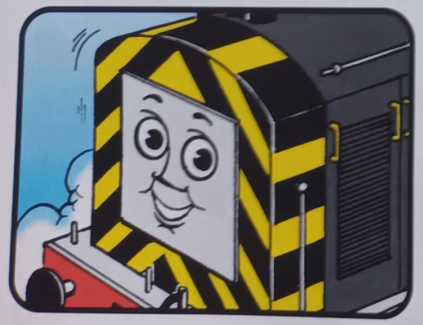
Mavis the diesel,
Was busy one day.

"Hello! There's Mavis!"
She heard someone say.

"Mavis? Who's Mavis?"
Another voice cried.



"That lady in blue?
Or the girl by her side?"



"I am Mavis!"
Mavis said, proudly,

"Now you know my name,
You won't forget me!"

This is the back of a train called the Orient Express. It is made up of very luxurious carriages called Pullman Cars.

Point to the Pullman coat of arms on the back of the train.
